

Loftus Peak Global Disruption Fund

Global Change. Listed Investments. Daily Liquidity.

Monthly Investor Letter
November 2018

Traditional business models are being disrupted as connectivity, networks and the sharing economy impact all industries – retail, transport, energy and banking to name a few. Loftus Peak invests to generate returns from these major secular shifts. The Fund's geographical and sectoral diversification lowers the concentration risk inherent in the typical Australian portfolio with its heavy skew toward banks, resources and the Australian dollar.

Review & Outlook

November was another volatile month, with the Fund delivering a negative return of -2.5%, which was -0.8% below the benchmark (MSCI All Countries World Index (net in AUD)). The period was marked by significant uncertainty as China and the US manoeuvred for position in the trade war. It should be noted that even with this volatility, performance would have been positive were it not for a 3.24% appreciation in the AUD over the month. Since Loftus Peak took over the management of the fund it has returned 20.7% p.a., which is outperformance of 7.2% p.a. The Loftus Peak Global Change Portfolio, with the same underlying stock composition, has delivered 19.6% p.a. over 53 months.

<sup>1</sup> Net-of-fees performance is based on end-of-month redemption prices after the deduction of fees and expenses and the reinvestment of all distributions.

Figures include changes in principal value. Investment return and principal value will vary, and an account may be worth more or less at termination than at inception. For further details, please refer to each Fund's product disclosure statement and reference guide.

<sup>2</sup> The index for the Fund is MSCI All Countries World Index (net) as expressed in AUD from Bloomberg.

Fund Contributors and Detractors

Nvidia and Apple were the worst performers – Apple on fears that the company is now ex-growth in terms of units sold (which we think is broadly correct) with gains to come from the company's burgeoning services arm, which in the quarter delivered 16% of revenue. Nvidia shed almost a quarter of its value following a 20% reduction to fourth quarter revenue guidance as the company severely misjudged sales of its mid-range graphics cards (from slowing crypto demand). We were selective in our buying of companies at significantly lower prices.

It does appear that Qualcomm is close to a settlement in its long running litigation with Apple, a significant net positive for the company and one which will hopefully underpin sales of 5G modems into Apple phones post 2020. On the positive side, there was a welcome bounce in some of our China names, with Alibaba, and Tencent adding, while some of our machine learning investments started to bear fruit.

About Loftus Peak

Loftus Peak is a global fund manager with a focus on investing in listed disruptive businesses. Our team's extensive experience of successfully investing in disruptive businesses brings significant discipline to the investment process.

The Fund, which includes large capitalisation names like Apple, Google and Alibaba, is constructed on the basis of strict criteria, giving investors exposure to the some of the best and fastest-growing companies in the world, at carefully determined valuations. This kind of geographical and sectoral diversification lowers the concentration risk inherent in the typical Australian portfolio, with its heavy skew toward banks, resources and the Australian dollar.

We believe self-managed super funds, and investors generally, want a professionally-managed portfolio that gives them access to these important secular trends.

The Team

The portfolio is managed by Alex Pollak and Anshu Sharma.

Alex Pollak
CEO, CIO and Founder

With 25 years' experience in disruptive business models gained during a career with Macquarie Bank, Alex heads one of the best-performing teams in global listed disruptive business investment in Australia.

He was instrumental in bringing both Seek and Carsales.com.au to the Australian stock market. His deep knowledge of investment and global change companies means you are ideally placed to benefit financially from the movements in technology which are daily changing the face of markets.

Anshu Sharma
Portfolio Manager

Anshu started his career in global disruption investment almost a decade ago at TechInvest. This was followed by Portfolio Manager and TMT Analyst responsibilities for the Asia region at Eight Investment Partners.

Being mentored by the best in this space early on in his career and having extensively travelled in Asia to meet hundreds of companies, Anshu brings a wealth of experience to investing globally.
