Why choose the Fund?

The Fund aims to enhance the return clients receive over and above the market.

It is a clever, low cost way to invest into the ASX.

- Its performance mostly replicates that of the market, but historically adds a little extra return.
- It has a low cost of 0.39% (plus a performance fee where applicable).
- It has relatively low turnover and tracking error.

About the Fund

The Fund is a single portfolio made up of two parts:

1. An indexed position in the S&P/ASX 20 Index ('the top 20')

The Fund has a position in each top 20 stock, in the same weight in the Fund as they have in the S&P/ASX 300 index. This means the Fund's largest positions will be the largest companies on the ASX and include Commonwealth Bank, CSL and BHP. For example, if Commonwealth Bank has a weight of 7% in this index, it will also have a weight of 7% in the Fund. Combined, the top 20 stocks currently have a weight of approximately 56% in the index, and so also in the Fund.

2. An active position comprising BAEP's best stock ideas from outside the top 20 ('the ex20')

The Fund is also invested in a selection of ex-20 stocks BAEP believes will outperform, which in turn allows the Fund to outperform the benchmark. They are chosen using a robust, disciplined and proven investment approach that focuses on fundamental factors such as earnings, growth and valuations.

Ex-20 stocks make up the balance of the portfolio.

The composition of the Twenty20 Fund

The beauty of the Fund

BAEP believes it is more difficult to outperform when investing in the top 20 stocks. The top 20 stocks are well known and heavily researched, and have more broker and media coverage. On the other hand, BAEP believes there is more opportunity to outperform when investing in ex-20 stocks, which tend to be priced less efficiently.

In this context, it makes sense to:

- index the top 20 stocks in order to keep the overall cost of the Fund down; and
- exploit the opportunity to enhance returns via active management in the less efficient ex-20 segment of the market.

This provides clients with the best of both worlds - by combining passive and active productively.

What returns will it provide?

Because of its large indexed position, the Fund's returns will quite closely follow the returns of the market. In technical terms, this is to say the Fund has a relatively low tracking error.

However, the Fund's returns can deviate from the S&P/ASX 300 index because of its active position in ex-20 stocks. Historically, the Fund has been able to deliver a little extra return over and above the market. In this way, it fulfils its purpose as an enhanced index fund.

What is currently in the Fund?

The Fund has positions in the top 20 stocks and approximately 20-30 ex-20 stocks. Together, there are typically around 40-55 stocks in the portfolio at any one time.

The Fund's sector exposures will deviate from the benchmark only to the extent that the actively managed investment in ex-20 stocks results in an over or under-weighting to any particular sector.

Together with positions in the top 20 stocks, the Fund is selectively invested in a group of high quality growth stocks. This provides the opportunity for the Fund to outperform over time. As a diversified group of stocks, we believe the Fund is well set up to provide enhanced index returns.
